

Shanna Skousen

This product was created for a conference logo. The feel is collaboration and change at an intersection. The colors speak to collaboration. And the interstate than is connected said to me that things are about to change.

Mockup above and design on the page bellow.

